SISTERS INSIDE

Sisters Inside Inc. is an independent community organization which exists to advocate for the human rights of women in the criminal justice system, and to address gaps in the services available to them. We will work alongside women in prison in determining the best way to fulfill these roles.

SISTERS INSIDE INC

Work
Pathways
Program

What is it About?

This program has been funded by the Department of Employment and Industrial Relations to provide an opportunity for women to undertake accredited training after they have been released from prison.

There are various programs throughout the year with class sizes of around 12. The training is run at Learning Network Queensland in South Brisbane registered Training organization in South Brisbane. Transport is available

What Does It Involve?

The subjects that the course involves:

- Workplace Health and Safety;
- Basic Business Computing;
- Preparation of Business Documents;
- Development of Job Acquisition Skills;
- Accessing Employment and Training Option.

At each end of that formal education , participants will receive a Certificate II in Business Skills for Workplace Re-Entry. There are opportunities to further develop these studies for other certificates, for instances, a certificate I in Information Technology, or a Certificate II in Business.

Where to go!

Sisters Inside is working with Learning Network Queensland at South Brisbane where participants can practice the skills they are developing

- They will be able to use a computer with Internet access, a printer, telephone, and other office equipment
- We will be able to help them with course work or other relevant activities , if they want help.
- Sisters inside is available to assist with finding employment upon completion of the course.
